

Applications open until 13:00, Thursday, December 23 Free distribution of sanitary products (“The Breeze Project: Supporting Women's Bodies”)

Free Distribution of Sanitary Products

The COVID-19 pandemic (coronavirus disease) has had an impact on the finances of Keio students.

This, along with compounding circumstances, has negatively influenced the livelihoods of some students.

The Office for Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion, has begun distributing free sanitary projects through the “Breeze Project: Supporting Women’s Bodies” initiative, as a way of addressing the needs of female students at our university dealing with these uncertain times.

We hope that this support will go some way in helping students get the most out of their college experience.

For those interested in receiving these products, fill out the forms below according to the following guidelines.

Please note that the amount of provided products has been changed.

◇ Details of the Support Program

Sanitary products (details below) will be provided to persons deemed eligible through the University Co-op Store at your affiliated campus.

(※ Due to inventory control, you will only be able to pick up products at your affiliated campus.)

Included Products

- 1 package of 8 sanitary pads (heavy flow winged, daytime use)
- 2 packages of 3 sanitary pads (winged, night-time use)

(While hand-held paper bags (large size) are available, when possible please bring your own bag.)

◇ Eligibility

Female Undergraduate and Graduate Students (limited to those with full-time status attending courses on campus) who have experienced financial hardship and are struggling to support themselves as a result of the COVID-19 (coronavirus disease) pandemic's influence on part-time jobs, family finances, etc.

■ How to apply

Please apply using the form below

<https://forms.gle/urALFm2hfqRbAxJ47>

■ Application period

Thursday, December 9 - 13:00 Thursday, December 23

◇ Screening Criteria

Screening decisions will be based on student's answers to all sections of the application form, with our office using a point system to create a priority list based on the perceived needs of each individual and distribute our inventory accordingly. ◇ Notice of Screening Results

Tuesday, January 11 (Tentative)

We will contact all applicants about their application results through their keio.jp email address

*Please keep in mind that this means your personal email inbox, not the student portal messaging system

◇ Product Pickup: Timeframe and Details:

- Timeframe: Anytime between receiving your "product available for pickup" email and Friday, March 18.
- Pickup Location: The University Co-op Store at your affiliated campus. (A more detailed location guide will be included in future emails.)
- Your Student ID card (IC card) will be necessary when picking up your products. *Please note that we cannot distribute products to students who have forgotten their ID cards.

- Depending on University Co-op Store inventories, there may be cases when products are not available. If this occurs, pickup will be scheduled for a subsequent day.
